

SHOULD I TELL MY PARTNER?

If you have Gonorrhoea your partner may have it as well.

They should go to the doctors to check if they have the bug.

They also need to know about having to use a condom.

GONORRHOEA

WHAT IS GONORRHOEA?

Gonorrhoea is a bug that is passed from one person to another during sex

HOW DO YOU CATCH GONORRHOEA?

It is passed from one person to another through:-

Having Sex

Sharing Sex Toys

Oral Sex

You can also pass the bug from your fingers to your eyes if you have touching genital parts

WHAT WILL HAPPEN IF I DON'T GET TREATMENT?

The bug can spread to other parts of the body. This can cause damage to your body

It may stop you being able to have Babies

The bug (gonorrhoea) will not go away without treatment

WHAT CAN HAPPEN IF I AM PREGNANT?

The bug can be passed on to your baby. This can cause the baby to have sore eyes (conjunctivitis).

You can get tablets (antibiotics) to take whilst you are pregnant that will not harm the baby. You must tell the doctor if you think you are pregnant

TREATMENT

You will be given Antibiotics (pills).

If you think you are PREGNANT,

or if you take the oral contraceptive PILL

tell the doctor

Do not have sex until you have finished the treatment

You cannot catch it from:-

Kissing

Hugging

Sharing baths
Or towels

Sharing cups,
knives,
forks, etc.

Toilet seats

who have the bug will not have any signs or symptoms that can be seen. They will still have the bug and can still pass it to other people.

things that you may see on your body

Women

yellow or green watery liquid (discharge) from your vagina.

Pain when passing urine (peeing)

Pain in your stomach

Men

White, yellow or green from your penis

Pain when passing urine (peeing)

Pain in your testicles (balls)

Both (men and women)

Itching and discharge from the bum.

Have I got Gonorrhoea?

If think you may have the bug you can only find out by having a test.

What are the tests?

The doctor or nurse will wipe a swab (cotton bud) over the area where the bug is e.g. penis, or vagina.

This is quick and does not hurt.
